1. The Air Force has prepared a presentation in the fields of electronic intelligence and radar scope photography, providing a summary of the situation with respect to intelligence collection, production and exploitation. This will include discussions of intelligence objectives, electronic intelligence and radar scope photography programs, and a summary of the knowledge we have of Soviet electronic systems. The latter portion of the presentation will provide information on exploitation of the intelligence obtained, by research and development activities, Air Defense Command and Strategic Air Command.

2. I believe that certain of your senior staff officers, as well as their subordinates, would find this presentation of great interest and benefit in accomplishing activities either concerning or related to these two fields. I would sincerely welcome the opportunity to arrange for this presentation to be made early in the month of March to such members of your Agency as you may designate.
